

3-case

Diagnostic competence. From early childhood, the student shows a penchant for drawing, modelling, and design. He is good at imagining and creating unusual designs. The teacher suggested that his parents send him to an art school. However, parents wanted to see their child in the sports section. What should a teacher do?