

Case 14: Risk of political instability

Investor Elena is considering the possibility of investing in developing countries. She is concerned about the risks associated with political instability in these regions.

Questions:

1. What risks may be associated with political instability in developing countries?
2. What factors can influence the political situation in these regions?
3. What risk management strategies can Elena use when investing in developing countries?