

2-case

Psychological and pedagogical competence . The child has a very good memory and can easily remember any texts, songs, information. During the holidays, he not only fulfils his assigned role, but also prompts the roles of other children. Therefore, it prevents others from expressing themselves, and the entire course of the holiday is disrupted. What should a teacher do?