

12-case

Why is it important to prioritize teaching a child to write, rather than typing text on a computer? How can you explain the following situation: the same child makes five times more errors when typing on a computer than when writing?