

2-case

The child came home from school in a bad mood, cried, said that the teacher was bad, that he hated him, that he would not go to school anymore. Mom went to school and made a scandal with the teacher in front of the whole class in the presence of the child. What consequences might this incident have? What kind of awareness-raising work should a teacher do to prevent such cases?